Boost The Lions Carnival At Magrath

NEWS NOTES

One week from tonight, December 8th, the Queen of the Lion's Carnival will be crowned in Magrath. Who will it be? Raymond has a very good chance of deciding that question by supporting Miss Virginia Ririe in the Queen contest. Miss Ririe will poll a good vote in her home town of Magrath, and the help possible from the local High School Student body and staff as well as the Raymond A.A.A. and the citizens generally, she should be Queen. If you have not bought your tickets yet, do so now.

The cause for which the Carnival is being staged is very worthy. Magrath is after a swimming pool, and Raymond citizens will be glad to buy a ticket to help Magrath Lions in this cause. Then, too, your ticket gives you a chance on a prize three year old McIntyre steer, and these animals are worth real money today. If you attend the Carnival with your ticket you have a chance on the door prizes and these are a beautiful array. We saw them in the Trading Co. window Monday. Help the Lions help Magrath to get a Swimming Pool, and incidentally help elect Raymond's entry Queen of the Carnival.

LIBRARY NOTES

NEW BOOKS

"Wind Sand and Stars" by Antoine De Saint Exupery.
"Maud" by Strout.
"Sea Tower" by Walpole.
"Thrice a Stranger" by Vera Brittain.

Vera Brittain author of "Testament of Youth," "Honourable Estate," and Poems of the War and After has written a new book "Thrice a Stranger" it is a continuation of her first book "Testament of Youth." This time the background is America.

Vera Brittain was born in Staffshir, England, educated at Somerville College, Oxford University. During the war she served as a V.A.D. and went through the war and knew first hand the men who fought in the front line. Her brother and sweetheart both were killed in action in France. After the war Miss Brittain returned to England only to find a life very much changed from the quiet life she knew as a pre war girl. During the war she had written some short poems and found time to do greater work after the war.

She has travelled much in Europe and America and her books are very popular.

Did you know that Leslie Ford the author of mystery stories is a woman and that she writes under two names, Leslie Ford and David Fremie.

Life Magazine for Nov. 27 has a full page picture by Doris Lee of the stage setting for "Show Boat," the play taken from the book by the same name.

This same copy of life, has pictures from the album of the Day Family, who inspired Clarence Day to write "Life With Father," and "Life With Mother."

Special sessions of the Town Council recently have been dealing with land valuations in the Town which have not been regular for some time. The Mayor. These unpleasant questions come up every so often and their only solution is a uniform treatment as respects location, etc. No doubt there will be some dissatisfaction when the new assessments are received, but the Mayor says, "they will at least be uniform and as just as we can make them."

Do all YOUR Christmas buying in Raymond. Help build up your Home Town

The Genealogical play "Straight Is the Way" was presented to a fair sized house in Magrath Wednesday night, and the offering seemed to please the audience there as it did here on Saturday.

It seems odd to hear tractors in the fields and plowing being done this late in November. Farmers declare that ground is in perfect condition for plowing and the moisture conditions are just what they should be.

J. H. Blackmore, M. P., will speak at the High School Auditorium at 8 p.m. Monday evening, December 4th.

Mrs. T. K. Roberts received a nasty cut on her hand Saturday morning when a large mirror slipped and severed an artery. She received treatment at the Doctor's office and was able to carry on her work.

Elders Gardiner and Thornock, L.D.S. missionaries laboring in Swift Current, Saskatchewan, were Raymond and Cardston visitors this past week and spoke in services here on Sunday.

How about your subscription folks. It costs money to put this sheet out each week. We had a few come in the past week and pay up, and it sure makes us feel good to receive these remittances. It won't squeeze you very hard and it surely does help us.

Wednesday's papers reported that Canada's first Cross drive had gone over the top of its $3,000,000 objective with a good many districts still to hear from. This must be encouraging news to the people across Canada who are in charge of the collection of these funds.

E. L. Spackman's new Plymouth Sedan was badly wrecked on the highway beyond Welling last Friday night when his son who was driving lost control at high speed and the car turned over four times. Neither of the two occupants were injured in the accident. Police are investigating the case.

The First Ward Supper Wednesday evening was well patronized and every one partook way beyond the point of wisdom of the good things on the tables. Sale of candies, a fish pond, Houdini and his Indian mysticism and all topped off with a dance made a busy and enjoyable evening for the many who attended.

The corner at King Motors saw a crash Wednesday forenoon between the International runabout of W.A. Heninger and the Whippet of Theodore Ehler. The Ehler car was coming from east and the Heninger car from the north. The impact turned the Whippet three-fourths of the way around, bent the fender and knocked off the gas cap. The bumper was bent on the International. Mark Heninger and Rex Ehler were driving when the bump occurred. Really the noise was the biggest part of the accident as both drivers escaped without a scratch.

"Straight Is The Way" Water Conservation Committee Active

The recreation hall of the 2nd Ward Church was packed to the doors Saturday night when the curtain went up on the first act of the 4 act pageant-drama presented by the Second Ward Genealogical Committee and directed by Mrs. L. D. King assisted in make up & costuming by Miss Iris Jones. Scenery for the production was painted by S. B. Smith and was very creditable, and all members of the Ward Committee assisted loyally in changing the scenes, preparing costume, and the hundred and one other jobs. L. B. Duncombe was technician in charge of the flood lights, Hans Anderson operated the light switches on the stage and in the hall and music for the singing and other scenes was provided by Mrs. Emma Dahl and Miss Virginia Ririe.

There was a definite hush settled over the audience as the first scene started, a scene in a garden in heaven, where two spirits had received their assignment to come to earth and other spirits were meeting to bid them adieu and success. The dancing, singing and acting, together with the lighting made this a very impressive and long to be remembered act.

Acts two and three were in mortality and found eight of the spirits in the first scene associating with one another in mortality. Their different likes and dislikes were depicted and their interest in or disregard of spiritual matters directed their actions to a great extent. During the third act a number were reported killed in an aero plane accident, death entered the family and as the curtain went down after this there were a great many tear wet eyes in the large audience.

The last act, again a heavenly scene, showed these same spirits returning again to paradise to be apportioned their place. Their disappointment at being stopped from progress, their anger at the disregard they were met with despite their stations of affluence and influence in earth life, and lastly the dawning realization of their having rejected the pearl of great price and the punishment they had to endure because of this, while the faithful went on to happiness and eternal progress, made a scene that none will ever forget and that taught a lesson of the value of the godly life stronger than anyone could preach. Deep silence prevailed throughout every speech and act.

In naming those taking part we hope if any are omitted they will not feel too badly as it is hard to keep track of thirty or forty. The main parts were in the hands of M. T. King, J. W. Evans, Jas. S. Anderson, L. L. Palmer, Bryant Heninger, Leonard Watson, James Weaver, Franklin Smith, Ruth Evans, Bernice Weaver, Irma Rasmussen, Reva Garner, Melba King, Louine Heninger, Lucy Stevens, Ralph and Reed Walker, Jane Walker, Eva Palmer, Joyce Duncombe, Leatrice and Vivian Scoville, Maureen Powellson, Ruth Reithman and Janet Dahl. Kathleen Brewerton, Thelma Smith, Mrs. A. F. Dahl, Mrs. Blanche Scoville, Jrs. McLean and all his choir members, Monte and Estelle Scoville and the Duncombe twins all assisted in the presentation.

To Don Rodeback and his committee, especially those responsible for the organizing and presentation of this beautiful drama thanks are due as it taught a great lesson and taught it in a way that it was very effective, will be long remembered and was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone.

NEWS NOTES

Henry Kendall was in Cardston Wednesday and part of Thursday hanging the doors on S. B. Card's new Service Station there which is just about completed. We understand that this station will replace the old one which has been in use for a number of years.

It was Home Missionary rite in the 2nd Ward Sunday evening and the missionaries, Elders Jas. E. Meeks, C. E. Allred and B. J. Coombs, were assisted by Elders Gardiner and Thornock who were visiting here. The speakers were brief and interesting and everyone enjoyed the meeting.

Red Cross Drive Under Way

At a Red Cross meeting in the Town Hall Friday night last, canvassers were appointed and given their receipt books and Red Cross stickers to cover the Town and district.

To date only part of the canvass has been finished, some of the people being away when called on, others planning to pay later on, and so on. Some good collections, however, have been reported & the Committee feel satisfied and encouraged with the results. The Junior Hungarian Society at their party Friday night last for Red Cross, made a donation on Saturday of $25.00, and the Senior group at a function a couple of weeks ago raised the same amount, making $50.00 from these Societies. The Bazaar and Sale of the Stake Primary on Saturday was just a little disappointing, although quite a lot of candy, cakes, doughnuts, sewing and so on was sold. Postponements of the Sale and a lack of advertising probably caused the small patronage.

Chas. Mehew was busy this week painting the wood work at the Raymond Servicentre, and also painting the new window in Stone's. Over the week-end the shelves were finished in Stone's and the groceries put in them, and this added to the appearance of the store. Now when the new counters are installed and the store freshly painted, it will add much to the looks of this popular store.

BANK OF MONTREAL REPORTS RECORD ASSETS AS RESULT OF BUSINESS EXPANSION AND PUBLIC FINANCING

Resources Increased to $1,025,508,367, a New High Mark in Canadian Banking — Liquid Assets of $742,603,867 Represent 78.29% of Liabilities to the Public — Loans to Industry and Business Increased by $29,861,056 and Holdings of Government and Other Bonds by $76,434,435 — Profits Somewhat Higher

Reflecting the continued expansion of industrial operations, greater agricultural and mineral production, enlarged business activities, and participation in government financing, the 122nd annual statement of the Bank of Montreal for the year ending October 31 shows a substantial growth in assets and a moderate increase in earnings. Total assets of $1,025,508,367, an increase of $151,252,539, have in fact reached the highest level in the bank's history and represent a new high mark in Canadian banking. Profits of $3,462,446 showed an increase of $64,056 after the payment of government taxes of $1,198,413 which were higher by $45,795—and were the equivalent of 44.54 per cent on the capital, rest and undivided profits, which compares with 4.46 per cent in the preceding year; the increase in relation to total earnings is about 2 per cent.

The growth in the bank's assets is more than accounted for by an increase in deposits payable on demand and after notice of $151,732,105 to a total of $914,919,070. The changes in the notes in circulation, bills payable, and other items in the liabilities to the public are relatively small.

As against the expansion in deposits there is an increase of $48,703,634 in the bank's cash assets to $201,243,716 and of $122,268,748 in liquid assets to $742,603,867, while current loans in Canada at $257,261,729 are larger by $29,558,280. Apart from substantial holdings in cash at $94,641,456, and money on deposit in other banks at $77,357,497, holdings of government and other bonds and debentures, of which "the greater portion consists of gilt-edge securities which mature at early dates," are up by $76,434,435 to a total of $517,171,255. This, together with the increase in deposits, may be taken in part as reflecting the bank's participation in the recent $200,000,000 Federal Government loan taken up by the Canadian banks generally. The expansion of current loans is a highly satisfactory indication of the part the bank has played in expanding industrial and general business activities. The effect of the greater business activity has also been to increase the bank's deposits from the public.

Of the bank's total assets, shown at over $1,000,000,000, of $742,603,867 are equal to the quickly available resources 78.29 per cent of all liabilities to the public this compares with

The Southern Alberta Water Conservation Committee is pounding away on the problem of more water storage in the southern part of the province. J. W. Evans, a member of the Executive was in Lethbridge Monday afternoon to a meeting with Ben Russell, chief engineer of the P.F.R.A., and with him and other members of the executive inspected all of the proposed dam sites in the district regarding the feasibility, approximate cost and the good they would do.

We are informed unofficially, that because of war and other uncertain conditions, the big St. Mary's river dam is definitely cut for the immediate present because of its cost. The P.F.R.A. however, has funds enough to construct several of the smaller dams, which are all a part of the big project, and which would be working toward the big scheme, and on his recent visit to the west, Hon. J. G. Gardiner stated that while Alberta had not been getting her share of P.F.R.A. funds in the past, she would get them in the future, and Committee officials and members hope that out of these funds at least two dams might be built in the district south of town, and the canal dug from south of Magrath in order to fill the two reservoirs thus made, with water, to be used during the low water season in late July and August, which has been so costly to beet growers especially in Raymond and Magrath during the past two years. We wish the Committee success in their steady endeavors.

Edmonton Letter

(By T. B. Windross)

Edmonton, Nov. 27th — The spreading of propaganda which is spreading perilous to the safety of the nation in war-time is continuing in Alberta this week, being spread in a variety of forms by a variety of interests. Some of the propaganda, as in the case of the Communist pamphlets which have been distributed again during the past few days in the dead of night by people who are afraid to do it openly, has the deliberate intention of shattering Canadian unity and driving Canadian support to Soviet Russia, so assisting Germany and hoping to wreck the British Empire.

And some of the propaganda, as in the case of that issued by "Technocracy Inc.," is designed to draw Canada away from Britain, stop the Dominion's support of the Empire in war, and adopt a policy of a "continental union" in North America—thus lining the pockets of the irresponsible heads of the movement regardless of what might happen to Canada.

Other streams in the propaganda flood are aimed at nothing but a literal advantage, thoughtlessly sought without much idea of the consequences to the safety of this country. With an election campaign being planned in Alberta by the present provincial government for some time next year, the field for such propaganda is considered ripe, and the propaganda itself necessary to continued partisan victory.

Statements of printed matter prepared by the Social Credit party, and government are reported to be standing in vaults, however, instead of being distributed, the stuff is of such character as to make distribution unwise under the national regulations against seditious material, according to reports from the legislative buildings.

"Whispering campaigns" by which propaganda is spread verbally through trusted party members have become popular. One morsel of the chatter is an attempt to blame financial institutions and capitalism generally for the war; another describes how debt-refunding in Canada would be used to help finance Britain in war, to the great advantage of the banks but to the ultimate disadvantage of Canadian industry.

All such propaganda takes its cue from none other than Adolf Hitler himself, for it was he who recommended to politicians attacks on banking and international capital as a splendid style of party propaganda.

In "Mein Kampf" (page 282 of the Reynal and Hitchcock complete edition) Hitler told how he got the idea in 1921 from Gottfried Feder, Socialist, politician and "monetary reformer." Discussing then, formation of a new party which became Naziism, Feder had attacked banking.

"Immediately the idea flashed through my mind that now at last I had found the way to one of the most essential principles for the establishment of a new party," Hitler wrote. He did it well; people believed him and supported him in his party propaganda, and the situation in the world today is the result of his discovery that attacks on banking are popular with the masses. But Feder's real monetary reform ideas were dropped by Hitler.

In a candid discussion of his propaganda methods—so candid that the whole section was deleted from later editions of "Mein Kampf" in Germany—Hitler wrote that political propaganda should not be designed to appeal to the intelligentsia, but only to "the less educated masses." It should be far from being scientific teaching, he said; its job is to direct the masses toward facts, events and necessities.

"The art is to attack this so skillfully that a general conviction of the reality of a fact, of the necessity of an event, that something that is necessary is also right, etc., is created," Hitler wrote. "But it is not and cannot be science in itself, as its task consists of catching the masses' attention. Its effect has always to be directed more and more towards the feeling, and only to a certain extent to so-called reason."

"All propaganda has to be popular and has to adapt its spiritual level to the perception of the least intelligent of those toward whom it intends to direct itself. The great masses' receptive ability is only very limited, their understanding is small, their forgetfulness is great. Effective propaganda has to limit itself to a very few points and to use them like slogans. It has not to search into truth as far as this is favorable to others, in order to present it to the masses with doctrinary honesty, but it has rather to service its own truth uninterruptedly. As soon as by one's own propaganda even a glimpse of right on the other side is admitted, the cause of doubting one's own right is laid."

So there is Adolf Hitler's idea of honesty in leading his people and in talking to the world. The first English edition of his book was published in 1933, when he came to power. He expanded that power by a parliament of "yes-men," by controlling the press and by stifling courts and contractual obligations. Now, he has driven the world to war.

During the past week Premier Aberhart, Hon. E. C. Manning and the deputy minister of Trade and Industry broadcast a dialogue on the work of the Alberta price fixing board, lauding its work and hinting at its future program.

Judging from the activities of the price fixing board and especially their investigation into the price of sugar, it would appear that it is the intention of the government to take over the output of the Raymond and Picture Butte sugar plants under powers vested in the Marketing Act.

During the past week also the government has issued its financial statement for the year ending March 31st last which shows a considerable deficit despite the withholding of 50 per cent of interest payments due on the provincial bonds. Perhaps the most interesting item, however, is the statement covering Treasury House operations and showing that the Treasury branches during that same period have a deficit of $62,692. Expenditures include $7,144 for payments of depositor's bonuses of 3 p.c. on Monthly purchases of Alberta made goods. This means that the Province sustained a loss of $62,692 in order to pay $7,144 to depositors, a not very promising sort of business, for the province to be carrying on.

CONTROL OF ROUNDWORMS
IN HOGS

There are a number of diseases and parasites of hogs which take a heavy annual toll in the form of reduced gains, unthriftiness and death losses. Some of these are infections and very difficult to diagnose so that whenever an outbreak of disease does occur in a herd, a qualified veterinarian should be consulted without delay. Fortunately many losses may be prevented by proper sanitation. For example, losses from roundworms, which do a full share in reducing the profits from hog raising, are largely preventable if proper precautions are taken. While this letter will deal only with the control of roundworms it should be noted that the measures recommended will also help to prevent losses from other causes.

In order to appreciate the fact that the treating of pigs with worm expellers usually gives only temporary relief, one must be familiar with the rather complicated life history of roundworms. The eggs, which are picked up from infected ground and swallowed, hatch in the intestines. The young worms then enter the blood stream and pass to the liver, then on to the heart and from there to the lungs. In the lungs they develop for a few days, burrow through the lung wall and crawl up the windpipe and are coughed up into the mouth. The unsuspecting hog promptly swallows them, returning them to the intestines where they complete development. The round trip is accomplished in about 10 days to two weeks and development into a full grown worm in the intestines takes about 2½ months.

HOTEL GROSVENOR
E.G. BAYNES, Owner-Operator

As we go into the winter months we invite you to stay at the Grosvenor where its broad fire-place spreads a homey, cheery atmosphere throughout the great lounge, rooms and room and dining service all maintained at a very high level. With rates from $1.50 up — their lowest in vancouver — you'll like this hotel better than ever.

Although a single infection would probably not cause serious trouble, continual re-infection, with the consequent steady procession of immature worms through the lungs, causes inflammation, coughing and loss of condition. It has been found that mature pigs are somewhat tolerant to worm infection but they are potent carriers and will act as a source of infection for young pigs which are very easily infected and seriously affected by the worms.

The important point in control of roundworms is sanitation. This includes thorough scrubbing of pens with boiling water and lye (1 lb. lye to 30 or 40 gallons of water) washing of sows with soap and water prior to farrowing and raising young pigs on clean pasture. As the eggs of roundworms are very resistant to the elements, the importance of clean ground and clean pastures for young hogs cannot be over-emphasized. The same pasture should not be used two years in succession and dry lots should be changed whenever possible. By the time pigs are four months old, the dangerous period is past and it is unlikely that a few worms picked up after that time will seriously effect them.

Worms may be removed from the intestines by certain drugs obtainable in capsule form but such treatment is only a temporary expedient unless the hogs are placed in clean pens or on clean ground immediately after the treatment has had time to be effective. This will be 24 to 36 hours after the drug has been given. When treatment is employed, it should be given on an empty stomach and the animals kept in a small enclosure where the feces passed can be collected and removed. It should be borne in mind that eggs capable of developing into worms will be passed with the worms expelled by drugs and that these may survive even a severe winter.

WEST OGDEN HAS
NEW AUTO STATION

Walter S. Berryessa, former resident of Raymond and now Ogdén business man, will open a new superservice station at 501 West Twenty-fourth.

The station will "cater to the general motoring public and will carry all Texaco products and service, and a full line of Firestone tires, tubes, and batteries."

Mr. Berryessa's four sons, Uriel, Owen, Frank and Max, will assist him at the station.

Berryessa has been connected with the Glen Bros. Music Co. of Ogdén the last year, teaching band. He is a member of the American Legion drum corps, and is leader of the Union Pacific band. He claims the distinction of being the first Ogdén man to enter the World war.

Speakers at Rotary on Monday were Johnny Boehme, who spoke of the Youth Physical Training plan of the Government, and Elders Gardiner and Thornock, visiting here from Swift Current, Saskatchewan, who attended the meeting. Other guests were Bob Patton of the Lethbridge Club, W. J. Wilkie and Ronald Folsom. The Club Service committee reported that negotiations had been completed for a piano and that it would be in place for next week's regular meeting, and Past Pres. T. Geo. Wood volunteered to collect the time each meeting from the Rotarians for the piano fund. 21 were present.

The First Ward members were entertained Sunday evening with a dramatic by Magrath players which carried a fine lesson to all present and was very interesting from start to finish. A good musical program was also given.

NET EARNINGS OF AL- BERTA POOL ELEVATORS

The operating earnings of Alberta Pool Elevators for the year ended July 31st 1939 showed a surplus of $508,657.12.
This figure was arrived at after allowing $519,405.17 for depreciation and paying $225,258.34 to the Alberta government as interest on indebtedness. The results for the crop year 1938-39 are the best since the year 1928 and 1929.

Total handlings of Alberta Pool Elevators for the year under review were 4,505,925 bushels of grain, compared with 22-929,712 bushels a year previous.
The larger handlings were accounted for principally by the better crop in Alberta in 1938 as compared with 1937.

The net free assets representing the equity of the membership in the Alberta Wheat Pool as at July 31st, 1939, totalled $4,698,793.54, an increase of $1,045,994.01 over the previous year.

Alberta Pool Elevators operated 421 country elevators in 1938-39 out of a total owned of 426. Two terminals were co-operated, namely Pool No. 1, owned by the association, and Pool
No. 2, leased from the federal government. Both these terminals are located at Vancouver.

The extensive patronage given en Alberta Pool Elevators by many thousands of Alberta grain producers over the past eight years has resulted in the organization making satisfactory progress in re-establishing itself financially. Each passing year sees Alberta Pool Elevators in better shape to render excellent service to the farm people and to advance the cause of Alberta agriculture.

A Scotsman and an English man were indulging in an argument about their respective countries.

"Well, after all," said the latter at last, "there is very little difference between the Englishman and Scotsman."

"Perhaps you are right," replied the Scot, "but thank heaven for the difference!"
